Resilience-Based Strategies That Create Success

WHAT SOME OF MY CLIENTS SAY

Chris Hosey, Director – Georgia Bureau of Investigation

"From the first time I met Tiran and heard his powerful message, it reaffirmed the importance of being resilient and the need for him to share with our agency. Individually understanding, recognizing, and practicing resiliency is essential to each of us as we grow in our professional and personal lives and invaluable to those we care about. Tiran's message is proof of reshaping what lies ahead and finding gratitude and recognizing the blessings of life as our journey continues.

Chelsea Spencer-Smith, Founder – St. James Xavier Group

"I had the pleasure to see Tiran Jackson speak at an entrepreneurial event in Atlanta. As a former sales executive, I have seen several speakers and sales meetings at different conferences. I walked away thinking, wow, that speaking engagement on choosing resilience was great. I said to myself, Sales organizations and teams need this. They need to hear what he has to say. His presence and engagement will reunite you and your people and excite them about their sales goals. If you are facing challenges, you need Tiran to come and speak. I firmly believe having Tiran come in and speak will re-energize your organization."

Rob Clark, Jr., Chief Audit & Compliance Officer – Howard University

"How many of you have been a part of the conference to hear somebody talk about resilience? It seems to be one of those buzzwords that people throw around as if it's just the buzzword of the day. I just heard Tiran speak and share his story. And it was not about him. It was about how his story can help to inspire others. I was moved. As I watched him, I looked around the audience and I saw people moved and inspired. He's got a wonderful gift. He's got an amazing story. And I love the fact that he's using his story to inspire others. He's a phenomenal speaker and an even better person. And I would encourage you if you have an opportunity to hear him inspire your audiences like no one ever you have ever put in front of your audience before. You should definitely check him out."

Resilience-Based Strategies That Create Success

WHAT SOME OF MY CLIENTS SAY

Montelle Sanders, Director - Player Engagement Las Vegas Raiders

I am writing to wholeheartedly recommend Tiran Jackson as a speaker for your organization or company based on his recent presentation on resilience and overcoming adversity with the Las Vegas Raiders. Tiran's ability to connect with his audience and share personal experiences is both inspiring and impactful.

During his talk, Tiran effectively illustrated the challenges he has faced and the strategies he employed to navigate them. His storytelling not only captivated listeners but also offered practical insights into resilience that many found relatable and empowering. He has a remarkable talent for turning adversity into motivation, encouraging others to embrace their own struggles as opportunities for growth.

Tiran's authenticity and passion for helping others shine through in every interaction. He possesses the rare ability to foster a sense of community and support, making him a natural leader. His commitment to uplifting those around him is evident, and I have no doubt that he will continue to make a significant impact wherever he goes.

I am confident that Tiran Jackson's story will impact those that have the opportunity to hear. His dedication to personal growth and community empowerment would benefit your organization / company.

Tara LaFon Gooch, Forbes-Featured CEO / CEO of Best Branding Solutions, LLC

"The story of Tiran Jackson is nothing short of inspiration. To hear what he has overcome in his life is so profound and moving that it should be made into a movie. His incredible story will transcend any audience he speaks to and will leave them feeling motivated and inspired long after he finishes delivering his message. As incredible as his story is, you will never be the same after you hear his story. His story will teach you that no matter what you have been through, no matter what you've seen, no matter what you have been dealt in your life, you can absolutely rise up like a Phoenix and go on to live a fulfilling and purpose-driven life through resiliency and that is what he teaches.

The incredible ability to overcome and be resilient can only be delivered by such a person as Tiran Jackson. So I highly recommend Tiran for absolutely any speaking engagement, where you want your audience moved to a different level. He will leave them forever changed as a result, and they will never be the same. Once you hear Tiran Jackson's story of overcoming and resilience, it will leave a lasting impression on you and your audience, and you will be able to take away actionable steps that day so that you can become more resilient as a result.

I highly recommend hiring Tiran Jackson for your next event; you will not be disappointed!!"

PROFESSIONAL BIOGRAPHY

Tiran Jackson

INTERNATIONAL SPEAKER,
BEST-SELLING AUTHOR,
RESILIENCY EXPERT, &
TRANSFORMATIONAL LIFE
COACH

Tiran Jackson is a highly sought-after professional speaker, author, and life coach specializing in resiliency and grief recovery who helps audiences across the world achieve success during times of adversity. Since 2019, Tiran has been helping individuals and organizations work through their grief, loss, and trauma, and overcoming challenging life circumstances.

After beginning his promising career as an engineer and living a life centered around advancing in his profession and providing for his family, he has gone through an incredible transformation, using his new, profound purpose as a means of inspiring others to find their path in life.

In June 2018, Tiran's life took a sudden and dramatic turn. While he and his wife Maleka were on a vacation celebrating 15 years of marriage, the couple went on a boating excursion. Several minutes into the tour, there was a catastrophic explosion, severely injuring Tiran, but tragically Maleka did not survive the explosion. Since that ill-fated moment, life has not been the same for him, nor would it ever be again.

Since then, Tiran has faced tremendous challenges as a result of this tragedy. He's had to face the emotional pain of unexpectedly losing the love of his life and their son losing his mother, the physical challenges associated with being permanently handicapped, losing his left leg and learning how to function in the capacity that he remained, the mental outlook associated with figuring out how to move forward with his new life now that everything that he was used to was going to be different, and spiritual aspects of trying to understand and accept why this had to happen.

Tiran is a master storyteller, with the ability to evoke the emotions of the most stoic of individuals.

Through his transformative journey, he has rediscovered who he is authentically and has allowed his vulnerability to serve as a guide in helping others find their resiliency, courage, and strength. He uses his "ROADMAP to Resilience" to not only inspire individuals and teams to move past their trauma but also to move forward to reach their greatest aspirations.

WHAT SOME OF MY CLIENTS SAY

Scotty Hendricks, Jr. Managing Partner – New York Life Insurance

"Tiran Jackson is a gem! This past week, my office had the pleasure of hearing words of inspiration, motivation, and challenge from Tiran, and he had everyone fired up and ready to go. Hearing his story of resilience immediately impacted the financial professionals within our office and has already led to increased effectiveness in the community we serve.

Thank you, Tiran!"

Rachel Kaufman, Attorney – Kaufman Law Firm

"We cannot say enough good things about Tiran Jackson! As the keynote speaker at our first-ever Canine CellMates - Beyond the Bars graduation ceremony, Mr. Jackson was an absolute inspiration!

His story, though shocking and tragic, was also uplifting and positive. Through it, he proved to himself (and us) that redemption is possible—whenever we tap into our vast well of resilience and continue to push through.

His words left the entire audience (which consisted of program participants, volunteers, local politicians, and news media) in awe; you could hear a pin drop in the room.

Overall, it was an unforgettable, perspective-shifting experience that we hope many others get to have."

Shavonne Reed, Founder & CEO – OPUA Agency

"This session was very inspiring. Tiran shared a very personal story of how he was reborn and overcame tremendous obstacles and deep pain. He was extremely captivating, and his story really hit home. This message will be powerful to anyone who has encountered a minor loss, a great loss, and everything in between. To see his resilience shine through this his artful storytelling will motivate everyone he encounters!

Booking speakers like Tiran is the way to go. It is definitely an added touch to an event because when your audience leaves, they will have a lasting impression of his keynote's impact on them."

Daryle L. Johnson, President – Mid-States Minority Supplier Development Council

"Recently, I had the pleasure of working with Tiran Jackson. He served as our luncheon speaker and provided an experience for my participants at this year's conference. We wanted to give a different perspective. We wanted to change things. In fact, the name of our conference was "A Platform for Change"

This year, we wanted to switch it up. We know that challenging times are on the way and resilience is necessary to build in individuals, employees, and companies. So we thought we would look for a speaker who embodied resilience, and I can tell you, Tiran did an excellent job for our luncheon. Our corporate members are still asking me how to get in touch with him and how to get his books? Where did you find him? I've got a lot of kudos for partnering with Tiran. And we're looking to do more. We are looking to put together a mini-series with him because several of our corporate members have asked us about how they can leverage his talk, and how to have him provide any of his workshops or other series or workshops that he could potentially present at. We will be looking forward to having even a follow-up in the fall, and we have asked for him to teach in a specific, smaller group setting where he can get a little deeper into some of the concepts and some of his proprietary approaches to solving for resiliency in individuals and companies. I recommend selecting Tiran if you are looking for a speaker that will tremendously impact your organization. So many people from our conference went home and told their wives or spouses or even their children, his story and how has moved and changed their conversations. This has been a great experience both during the event and post I definitely recommend Tiran Jackson."

CHOOSING RESILIENCE

Tiran and Maleka Jackson celebrated their fifteenth anniversary in the Bahamas together when a delightful excursion turned deadly. Their tour boat exploded, killing Maleka and trapping Tiran in the fiery inferno of the burning boat.

Choosing Resilience is the heartbreaking and hope-filled story of Tiran's fight to survive the loss of his wife and the devastation of his body, which ultimately resulted in the amputation of his leg. By vulnerably sharing his darkest moments, Tiran teaches that resilience is a choice to be grasped and pursued so healing can take place.

Tiran's will to recover amid tragic loss, grief, and insurmountable physical challenges will inspire and motivate you to believe that all things work together for good.

2. WHO WOULDN'T SERVE A GOD LIKE THIS?

When we are facing pain and adversity, it can be easy to feel overwhelmed and alone. This book seeks to shatter that illusion, illustrating the reality that so many of us suffer in silence, holding on to the broken pieces of our past.

Through a collection of inspiring stories from real people struggling with everything from abuse and trauma to addiction and loss, this book shows how God's love keeps us through even our darkest struggles.

Whether by providing comfort and guidance from His Word or bringing us a sense of belonging through His fellowship, God is there for us every step of the way. So if you're looking for hope amidst all of life's challenges, look no further than this powerful book - it will help you come to see that in "Who Wouldn't Serve a God Like This?" there truly is no better place to turn.

WIDOWHOOD IS FOR WOMEN MEN JUST REMARRY

It's becoming more and more common, to hear women advocate for widow support and speak about the pain of widowhood; losing the father of her children, navigating womanhood after "ever after" and hurdling the social obstacles that come with the territory... BUT WHAT ABOUT THE MEN?

What toxic stereotypes about grief and manhood, solo fatherhood, or rumors around re-marriage are they battling, and how are they managing their own mental health journeys? What support and advocacy needs do they have that may differ from those of widowed women, and how can we do better, especially in areas society overlooks?

Back from the brink: Tiran Jackson learns to harness power of resilience after tragedy

CONFIDENCE, INTENTION & FAITH.

With clear intentions Tiran Jackson has been able to take a good honest look at himself, and at what he wants to accomplish now. He determined what he needed to learn, and how he wanted to be, act, and show up that aligns with who he is authentically, and who he wants to become. This now guides him and his actions, almost unconsciously.

GOD SPEAKS

With counseling and therapy, Tiran realized he couldn't go back and change the past. He needed to accept it, embrace it, and be mindful of what his future was going to look like. Almost immediately, he relates, "In the hospital in Florida I realized that I would not be going back to work anytime soon, and that I would not be going back to being an engineer or living my previous life. I realized I had a different purpose now. It wasn't clear at the time, but it became clearer and clearer as I moved forward with my journey. About eight months after the accident, a friend of mine who is a regional director for a life insurance company asked if I would come to a conference with him—to speak, to tell my story about what I was going through emotionally, and to share the mind of someone who has lost a close loved one in a traumatic event. He wanted me to share how best to engage and connect with someone like me."

Tiran put a speech together but ended up scrapping it and speaking from his heart. "It was very emotional, like therapy on stage—a poor speech—but my message really connected to others. And as a result of that first talk, I've been asked to speak and share my story of resilience again and again at different events and different conferences. I realize now that by telling my story I am giving people inspiration and hope, and sharing the perspective that no matter what you're facing, you can bounce back."

Tiran Jackson

Author of God Speaks
Entrepreneur, Speaker, Author, Resilience Life Coach

After a life-altering accident, Tiran Jackson was faced with a choice: surrender to the circumstances or rise above the pain. He chose to rise above. He is now a successful entrepreneur, author, and speaker, sharing his story of resilience and hope. His book, God Speaks, is a testament to his journey and the power of faith. "I wrote the book as a way to share my story and to help others who are struggling with their own challenges," he says. "It's a story of hope and resilience, and it's a story that I hope will inspire others to rise above their pain and to live a life of purpose and meaning."

It's Your Reaction to Adversity, Not Adversity Itself, That Determines How Your Life's Story Will Develop

However, this served as the beginning of Tiran's transformation from the man he once was to the man he would become. He recalls after going through multiple surgeries, just days after the accident, when he finally had a chance to process what had transpired. During that time, there was a moment that it became clear that he was spared for a reason and purpose much more significant than he understood.

While knowing that the life he had before was no longer the life he was going to have, he made a decision - choosing to be resilient despite what the future may bring. And once that decision was made, his perspective on everything he was facing ahead became a challenge. One that he knew he would need to overcome if he wanted to get any semblance of his life under control again.

For the next 2 years, he embodied resilience. He had to go through a process to find the proper support and counseling to deal with the emotional aspects associated with the grief, depression, and heartache of losing Maleka. He had to go through physical rehab consistently to learn to walk again with a prosthetic. Tiran battled PTSD and memory loss due to the explosion. He had to go through neurological recovery to get past those. And he did all of this while being a single father to his son, who was struggling with his own grief.

I Choose To Be Resilient!

WHAT SOME OF MY CLIENTS SAY

Rick Clinton, President & CEO - Vericor Power Systems

"Working with Tiran and watching him perform and witnessing his leadership abilities at Vericor inspired me to elevate my game as President and CEO of Vericor Power Systems. His selfless dedication to inspiring others allowed us to make our products more competitive, and our company more successful as a result, motivated others around him to work to a higher standard. We were fortunate to have him help and be a part of making our team great!"

Dexter & Tonya Scott, Owners - The Upgraders

"All of us at some point hit the wall in life. We find ourselves knocked down and wondering if we have what it takes to stand up. That's when we need a voice of direction... someone who knows how to help us find the strength we need to keep going. That's where Tiran comes in. He's the voice anyone needs to find your push, the strength, the tenacity! If you are stuck, look no further! Tiran is the answer to help you get after it."

Kalesia Cunningham, Founder of Leading With Eloquence

"In November 2021, we hosted an event called 'Rising Stronger - Strategies to Triumph Over Tragedy.' And Tiran was one of our guest speakers. I really liked how he walked us through the devastating time of losing his wife, from learning how to walk again to dealing with the mental anguish of it all. And then he eventually found love again. I received so many text messages and emails on how his story inspired each and every person, especially during a time when the weight of our world seems pretty heavy for so many of us.

Tiran Jackson, I just want to thank you for your participation in the event, and I look forward to working with you in the near future."

Jennifer Pitre, Founder - Think to Thrive, LLC

"Tiran's speech was informative, inspiring and most assuredly provides a reminder to us each, and all, to never assume you "know" what someone else has been through. His experience of demonstrated resilience and the rebuilding of a life is challenging to comprehend and close to unfathomable.

Tiran is a powerful presenter with a message about a segment of his life's journey that will make his audience revisit not only their own level of resilience but also strong reminders of gratitude and their innate (though too often untapped) ability to reimagine their lives and to reinvent themselves."

WHAT SOME OF MY CLIENTS SAY

Joe Klosinski, Engineering Leader – GE

"Following the loss of my wife, I reached out to Tiran to help me through the difficult healing process. Tiran patiently walked me through the grieving process, explaining to me what I should expect and providing coping mechanisms to help me understand exactly what I was feeling and why. Nothing is going to take away the pain you are experiencing, but by working with Tiran, you will develop a better understanding of the grieving process and understand what you are feeling is completely normal. Tiran understands loss and can draw upon his experiences to provide real guidance.... I knew I was speaking with someone who understood my situation and that I could trust and apply his advice. Through our conversations, I learned how to live my own life without feeling guilty. Tiran walked me through the process of finding out who I was without my wife....How letting go of some things did not mean I was forgetting our time together. This seems simple, but it is a very difficult transition.

Tiran expertly guides the conversation which makes opening up much easier and he expresses genuine concern and empathy. He asks the right questions, drawing out your emotions, and seeks to fully understand the person. Tiran walks along your side in your healing journey. He wants to help others make the same transition he did many years ago. I highly recommend Tiran to help you work through your grief. Tiran is able to draw upon his textbook learnings as well as his own experiences. This is what sets Tiran apart from others. He can bridge the gap between traditional therapy and his own life experiences."

Josh Damigo, Program Faculty – Influential U

"Tiran Jackson has been a client, mentor, and friend over the past few years. When I saw his book come out, I jumped at the opportunity, and I read it cover to cover. The last year of my life was one of the most difficult I've ever experienced. I lost my grandmother unexpectedly due to a stroke, and while I was caring for her, my dog was attacked and killed. They both lost their lives within 24 hours of each other. I'm not sharing that for sympathy. I share this because when I was going through some hard things, it was really nice to have someone come alongside me and encouraged me. As a Christian, reading Tiran's testimony in his book and having him as a guest speaker from the men's Bible study was a blessing that I know you want in your life. Tiran has a gift, and if you're considering him for an event, as a life coach or just considering purchasing his book, I invite you to move out of your consideration and talk to his team now. He provides direction and perspective on life that others simply cannot duplicate because of his unique life experience. He blessed me through the hardest pains I ever had in my life. And it reminded me that God has a plan. And I know Tiran will bless you too. Like Tiran reminds us in his book, Romans 8:28, it says, 'And we know that all things work together for good to them, love God to them who are called according to His purpose.' And remember, choose resilience because all things work together for good!"

"Tiran Jackson was one of the featured speakers at a conference I attended and WOW, his presentation was incredibly inspiring in so many ways! He shared his deeply personal story of tragedy and loss with incredible courage and vulnerability, enabling the audience to connect with his words in an emotional way.

Tiran's presentation also offered a step-by-step roadmap to resilience that really resonated, giving us a newfound sense of hope and strength that we can use to move forward in times of difficulty. It was truly a powerful and thought-provoking experience that I will never forget.

Thank you so much, Tiran, for sharing your gifts with the world."

TESTIMONIALS

Perry Kemp, Director - Georgia Medical Directors Association

Because COVID has caused so much trauma resulting in Post-Traumatic Stress, and because it was most terrible on first responders and healthcare providers, I instantly knew that Tiran was exactly what my geriatric healthcare workers needed.

Tiran's personal story, although tragic, uplifted our audience to a huge degree. The principles of coming back from any type of disabling trauma can work and restore anyone's life purpose. His faith and his determination enlightened our team. I watched the audience more than I watched Tiran. I saw in their faces deep personal issues and a new realization that they could take this information back home.

I know of several in our audience who have already started planning for Tiran to talk to their groups. Any healthcare-related group or team, regardless of size, can benefit as their organization bene-
